LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

I would like to respectfully express my concern and disagreement regarding the recent increase in gas charges. Currently, I pay approximately $50 per month during the summer despite having no active gas usage and up to three times that amount in the winter. My only gas appliance is a furnace, which makes these costs feel disproportionate and lacking in value, especially during the warmer months when usage is essentially zero. This increase comes at a time when Canadians are already grappling with rising taxes, higher mortgage rates, increased cost of living, and record-high unemployment. The timing of this adjustment feels both ill-considered and burdensome. Thank you for taking the time to hear my concerns.
