LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

Increasing rates by Enbridge shows a lack of judgment, given the current financial conditions that we are all faced with. Increasing rates yet again will cause unnecessary burden on all of us. These fees are already high, and there is no justification for a further increase. Instead, they continue to pay higher executive salaries, and do not find efficiencies within their business continuously increasing prices on consumers or something that we have no control of and absolutely need and tough financial conditions should not be tolerated
