I oppose this increase as filed. An extra $6.01 a month is $72 a year on the delivery charges alone and it comes on top of every other bill that goes up.

They report that 70% of customers support it in their survey. There are only around 12,000 who answered that survey. London has a population more than 10 times that number so that survey alone CANNOT be representative of London customers and this cannot be a mandate. I ask the Board to look beyond the face value of these claims and not treat it as a mandate.
