hello, I am writing today in opposition of the price increase

First of all, I have not seen any Concrete affirmation about the reason for the increase – – for example, I have not seen any breakdown of operational costs increasing to justify the end Consumer price increase

Additionally, I would like to see London Hydro, profit margins – – especially historical overtime and financials.if profits are healthy, we should prefer to maintain or reduce pricing at the expense of profit increase within the organization and it’s investors

Electricity is a critical service provided to citizens
