LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

To Whom It May Concern, I am writing to comment on the gas rate increases that are being proposed by Enbridge Gas. It goes without saying that gas is an essential service for most Ontarians. Anytime rate increases are proposed to essential services, one must consider the impact on individual households. This price increase may not seem significant to Enbridge, but to consumers, it will mean that people will be less able to afford their gas bill. This could put seniors, young children and many other vulnerable citizens at risk during the coldest months of the year. I would ask that Enbridge reconsider this price increase request. Your Truly, Julia
