11 The published Ux Weekly and TradeTech Nuclear Market review of U308 spot price

12 indicators have generally remained within 2 per cent of each other. Occasionally, due to 13 publication timing and reporting period differences, the difference between indicators has

14 been as high as 12 per cent. However, the difference returns to the narrow range within 15 one or two weeks.

17 The long term U308 indicators have generally been within 4 per cent of each other but

18 have, as indicated above, been as much as 8 per cent apart for short periods of time.
