Re: File EB-2010-0295

Dear Ms. Secretary:

Please accept this letter as my formal objection to the application brought forth under this file. I am a customer of Hydro One, however, I cannot find mention of this utility distributor on the page given as a link to look up the companies involved. I do, however, note that a number of the companies involved are in Northern Ontario, and serve small communities. It really matters not, who or where they are, since it will be consumers who will pay should the Ontario Energy Board rule in their favour.

This application is an insult to consumers. The class action was applied for in good faith, under our system of justice, and a ruling, in favour of the consumer was put forth by Mr. Justice Cumming on April 10th, 2010. What the utility distributors are now saying is, "sure, we were found guilty but now we want our money back, including the cost of our high priced lawyers, from all those who were awarded the judgment, as well as every other customer we have.". What was the purpose of the initial class action in the first place? Would a decision in their favour now not negate the judgment made by Justice Cumming?

Consumers costs for electrical energy to heat homes and power lights and appliances are increasing at an alarming rate now, and such an award for doing wrong would simply add to the over burdened customer yet again. This is not justice. This is a money grab from utility companies that already are taking in record cash flow.

The Ontario Energy Board is there to protect consumers from unreasonable charges for utilities. A decision in favour of these utility companies will be a slap in the face for these same consumers and a abdication of the duty of the Board. A favourable ruling for these companies is simply WRONG.

Sincerely,

Keith H. Moyer _____
