With regard to the current regulations Hydro One is proposing to circumvent, please be advised that Hydro One is currently failing to meet their obligations. I, like many many other potential micro-generators, had my initial connection refused. Several requests for a reason have gone unanswered, as has all correspondence sent to Hydro One.

A second connection request sent May 30 has also not received a response.

To me this is nothing more than a delay tactic until after the provincial election, Hydro One continues to show their contempt for the program by sending out thousands (5400 according to a recent Toronto Star article) of connection refusals citing "system constraints" but are unable or unwilling to provide any details, technical or otherwise.
