Biography

Mr. Starkey currently serves as the President and Founding Partner of QSI Consulting, Inc. QSI is a consulting firm concentrating primarily on regulated markets including the telecommunications industry. QSI assists its clients in the areas of regulatory policy, business strategy, financial and econometric analysis and inter-carrier issues involving rates and charges assessed by incumbent carriers. Prior to founding QSI Mr. Starkey served as the Senior Vice President of Telecommunications Services at Competitive Strategies Group, Ltd. in Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. Starkey's consulting career began in 1996 shortly before the passage of the Telecommunications Act of 1996. Since that time, Mr. Starkey has advised some of the world's largest companies (e.g., AT&T, MCI, Time Warner, T-Mobile, Comcast, Siemens Corporation, etc.) on a broad spectrum of issues including the most effective manner by which to interconnect competing networks. Mr. Starkey's experience spans the landscape of competitive telephony including interconnection agreement negotiations, mediation, arbitration, and strategies aimed at maximizing new technology. Mr. Starkey's experience is often called upon as an expert witness. Mr. Starkey has since 1991 provided testimony in greater than 150 proceedings before approximately 40 state commissions, the FCC and courts of varying jurisdiction.

Mr. Starkey's expertise with competitive communications issues is rooted not only in his consulting experience, but also in his previous employment. Mr. Starkey has worked for the Missouri, Illinois and Maryland public utility commissions, including his most recent position as Director of the Maryland Commission's Telecommunications Division (and as the Senior Policy Analyst for the Illinois Commission's Office of Policy and Planning and Senior Economist with the Missouri Public Service Commission).

AMERICAN TOWER®

Delivering Coverage and Capacity in Today's Challenging Environments

DAS Solutions Overview

Wireless subscribers today expect clear coverage indoor, outdoor and everywhere in between.

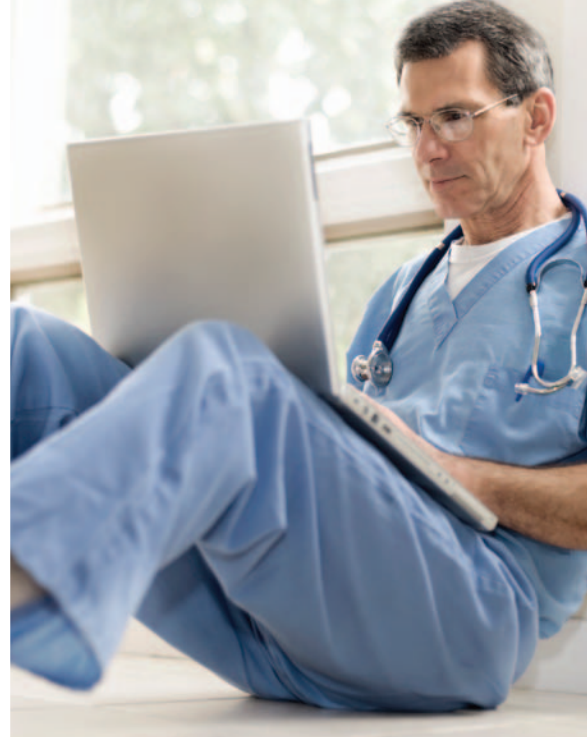

Through a suite of products including towers, rooftops, Distributed Antenna Systems (DAS) and site development services, American Tower helps wireless service providers deliver nationwide coverage—even in today's most challenging environments.

Partner with an Industry Leader

As a neutral host provider in the DAS space, American Tower has completed more multi-tenant installations than anyone else in the country. This includes the largest neutral host in-building DAS ever installed in the United States at the MGM Mirage properties in Las Vegas. With exclusive rights to hundreds of properties, including many of the most frequently visited malls and casinos in the country, you can count on our expertise to deliver superior coverage solutions to your customers.

Flexible Solutions to Meet Your Needs

American Tower designs, builds, owns, operates and maintains complete DAS solutions that allow wireless service providers to deliver the coverage they need, while balancing community aesthetic demands and zoning requirements. With the outdoor expansion of our well-established DAS program, American Tower provides access to coverage where traditional systems have been unsuccessful due to difficult zoning, cost constraints or other barriers to entry.

Depending on your coverage and capacity challenges and deployment philosophy, American Tower's DAS solutions are flexible and may include outdoor nodes, in-building nodes or a combination of site locations including tower structures.

Hybrid Approach

Venues with indoor and outdoor coverage challenges

Tower assets are utilized as part of the coverage solution

In-Building DAS

In-Building DAS

An in-building DAS is a network of antennas that are placed indoors and are connected with cabling or fiber to a “hub.” The hub allows for multiple wireless service providers to connect radios that transmit at various frequencies. The DAS serves as an indoor antenna system, which is owned and managed by American Tower. The system is a neutral host that enables multiple wireless service providers to use the network at the same time. Utilizing a DAS minimizes build out costs for service providers and eliminates their role in negotiations with building owners.

Typical In-Building DAS Installation

FLOOR-LEVEL EQUIPMENT

The neutral host DAS includes remote units placed in Telco closets or utility corridors on each floor of the building. The remote units connect to main units that are housed inside the hub location. Each remote unit connects to two antennas. The remote unit/antenna combinations are placed throughout each floor to provide a consistent wireless signal throughout the building.

Delivering wireless solutions in all the places where people live, work and play

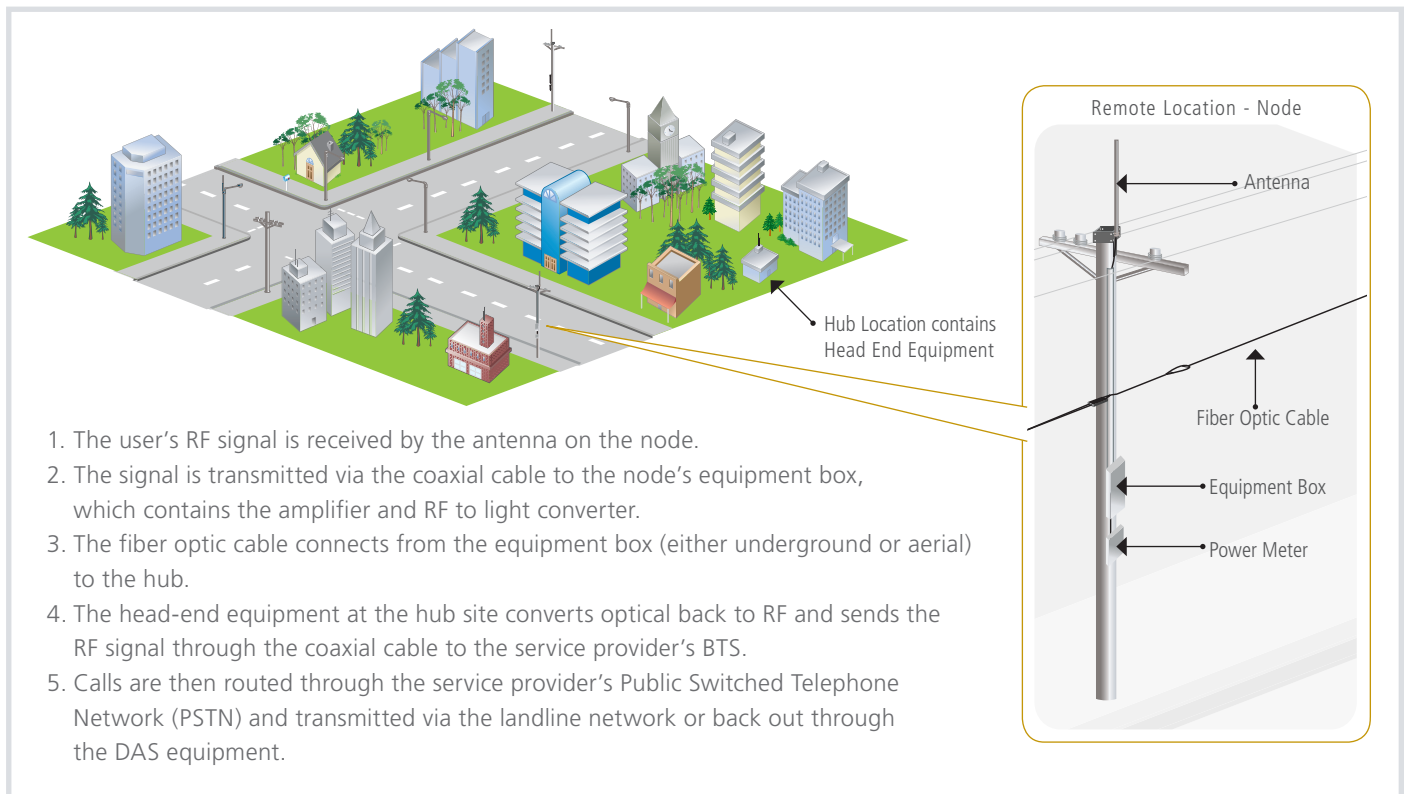

- Exclusive rights to hundreds of malls, campuses, resorts and casinos for DAS
- 10+ years of experience facilitating agreements with property owners
- The nation's leading operator of neutral host, multi-tenant DAS
- Agreements with every major wireless service provider

Outdoor DAS

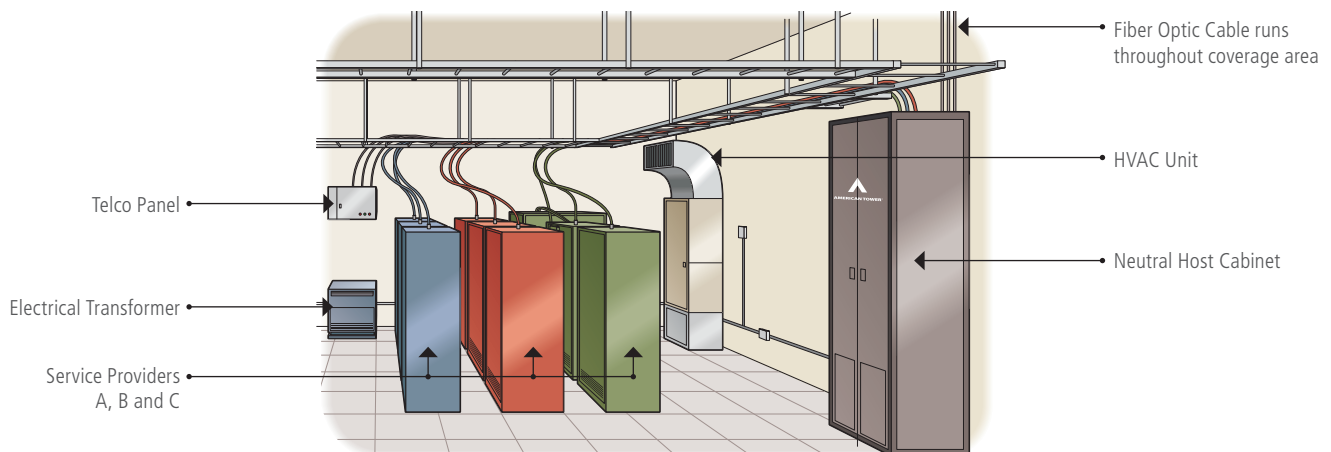

An outdoor DAS transmits a wireless signal in a similar way as an in-building system. The DAS includes nodes that are strategically placed on existing utility poles, street lights, traffic signals and other structures every half to three-quarter mile within the coverage area. The nodes connect to a hub via fiber optic cable. The hub contains American Tower's head-end equipment and the service provider's Base Transceiver Station (BTS).

Typical Outdoor DAS Installation

Hub – In-Building & Outdoor Systems

This diagram is a sample design for an American Tower DAS hub. It shows equipment for three major wireless service providers, as well as the American Tower neutral host cabinet, HVAC unit, Telco panel and electrical transformer. You can see the coaxial cable connecting the service provider equipment to the neutral host cabinet, as well as the fiber optic cable that flows from the neutral host cabinet to transmit wireless signal throughout the coverage area.

Your Experienced Partner

Since 2001, American Tower has been designing and deploying DAS solutions to meet the needs of our customers. We have diverse experience working closely with wireless service providers in planning, designing and redesigning their networks for optimum coverage and capacity.

DAS solutions require a customized approach, and American Tower manages every step of the process—scaling our solutions for any technology, number of service providers, frequency or traffic volume. We provide complete solutions from start to finish including:

- A Dedicated Project Manager:
We provide complete project management throughout system design, installation and maintenance. Your Project Manager will coordinate and manage all drive testing, site acquisition, municipal permitting, environmental compliance, construction and engineering.
- Site Design & Construction:
Our team of experienced engineers will design the network to accommodate each service provider's coverage needs. We provide all hardware, perform the installations, hire and manage all required labor and optimize and test the system before it goes live.
- Planning & Permitting:
We develop and implement the strategy for acquiring and maintaining the necessary access rights- municipal, state, federal, utility and other, to successfully deploy Distributed Antenna System (DAS) networks.
- Network Operations & Monitoring:
We provide complete maintenance, repair and network monitoring services through our 24/7, 365-days a year Network Operations Center (NOC). We have a three-tiered safety net of local vendor partners, dedicated American Tower DAS specialists, and our team of 250+ site operations professionals in markets nationwide.

How to Get Started

Contact your American Tower leasing representative to discuss your coverage and/or capacity needs. We will work with you to create a customized solution that provides the voice and data services your subscribers demand—whether through towers, rooftops, in-building DAS, outdoor DAS or a hybrid approach.

ATTACHMENT MTS-03

Attachment MTS-03

Listing of Cellular/PCS/AWS Antenna Arrays Within 25 Km. of Toronto's City Center

For purposes of this listing, an antenna array is defined as one or more antennas operating at the same licensed frequency at a single station site (i.e., physical location), by a particular wireless carrier. An antenna array may include several antennas oriented in different directions, and multiple carriers may be operating antenna arrays at the same station site. Attachment MTS-03 was developed using a three-step process.

Step 1: Four searches were conducted using Industry Canada's Spectrum Direct Geographic Area Search Tool,¹ which accesses the national radio-frequency licensing database, Assignment and Licensing System (ALS). Each search applied the following common parameters:

- Frequency Type: TX (Transmit)
- Center of Search Area (ddmmss): Latitude 434300, Longitude 792026 – this is Toronto Center in the NAD83 coordinate system.
- Search Radius (km.): 25
- Station Type: AWS/PCS/Cellular Stations
- Output Format: XML (with all fields)

The following frequency ranges were applied in order to capture licenses for stations operating in the AWS/PCS/Cellular bands.²

- Search 1: 800-900 MHz (Cellular Band)
- Search 2: 1930-1955 MHz (PCS)
- Search 3: 1956-1995 MHz (PCS)
- Search 4: 2110-2155 MHz (AWS)

Step 2: The results of the four searches were combined into a single Excel file. However, the Geographic Area Search Tool consistently returned records that exceeded the specified distance threshold, we also applied the 25 km. threshold directly and thus filtered out all records beyond that limit. The resulting "raw" dataset had 15,093 records (rows).

Step 3: In order to reduce the Step 2 dataset to antenna arrays, multiple records for the same license number were eliminated, resulting in unique frequency record numbers (i.e., corresponding to individual antenna arrays). This step was performed by removing all rows with the field "/account/licence/licence_no/#agg" = Blank. This resulted in 4,045 records, each representing a unique antenna array located within 25 kilometers of the center of Toronto.
