Attachment MTS-04

Listing of Cellular/PCS/AWS Station Sites Within 25 Kms. of the Center of Toronto

MTS-04 is intended to identify the physical locations (i.e., station sites) of all antennas licensed for radio-transmission within the cellular/PCS/AWS frequency bands that are within 25 kilometers of the center of Toronto. Attachment MTS-04 was developed as follows.

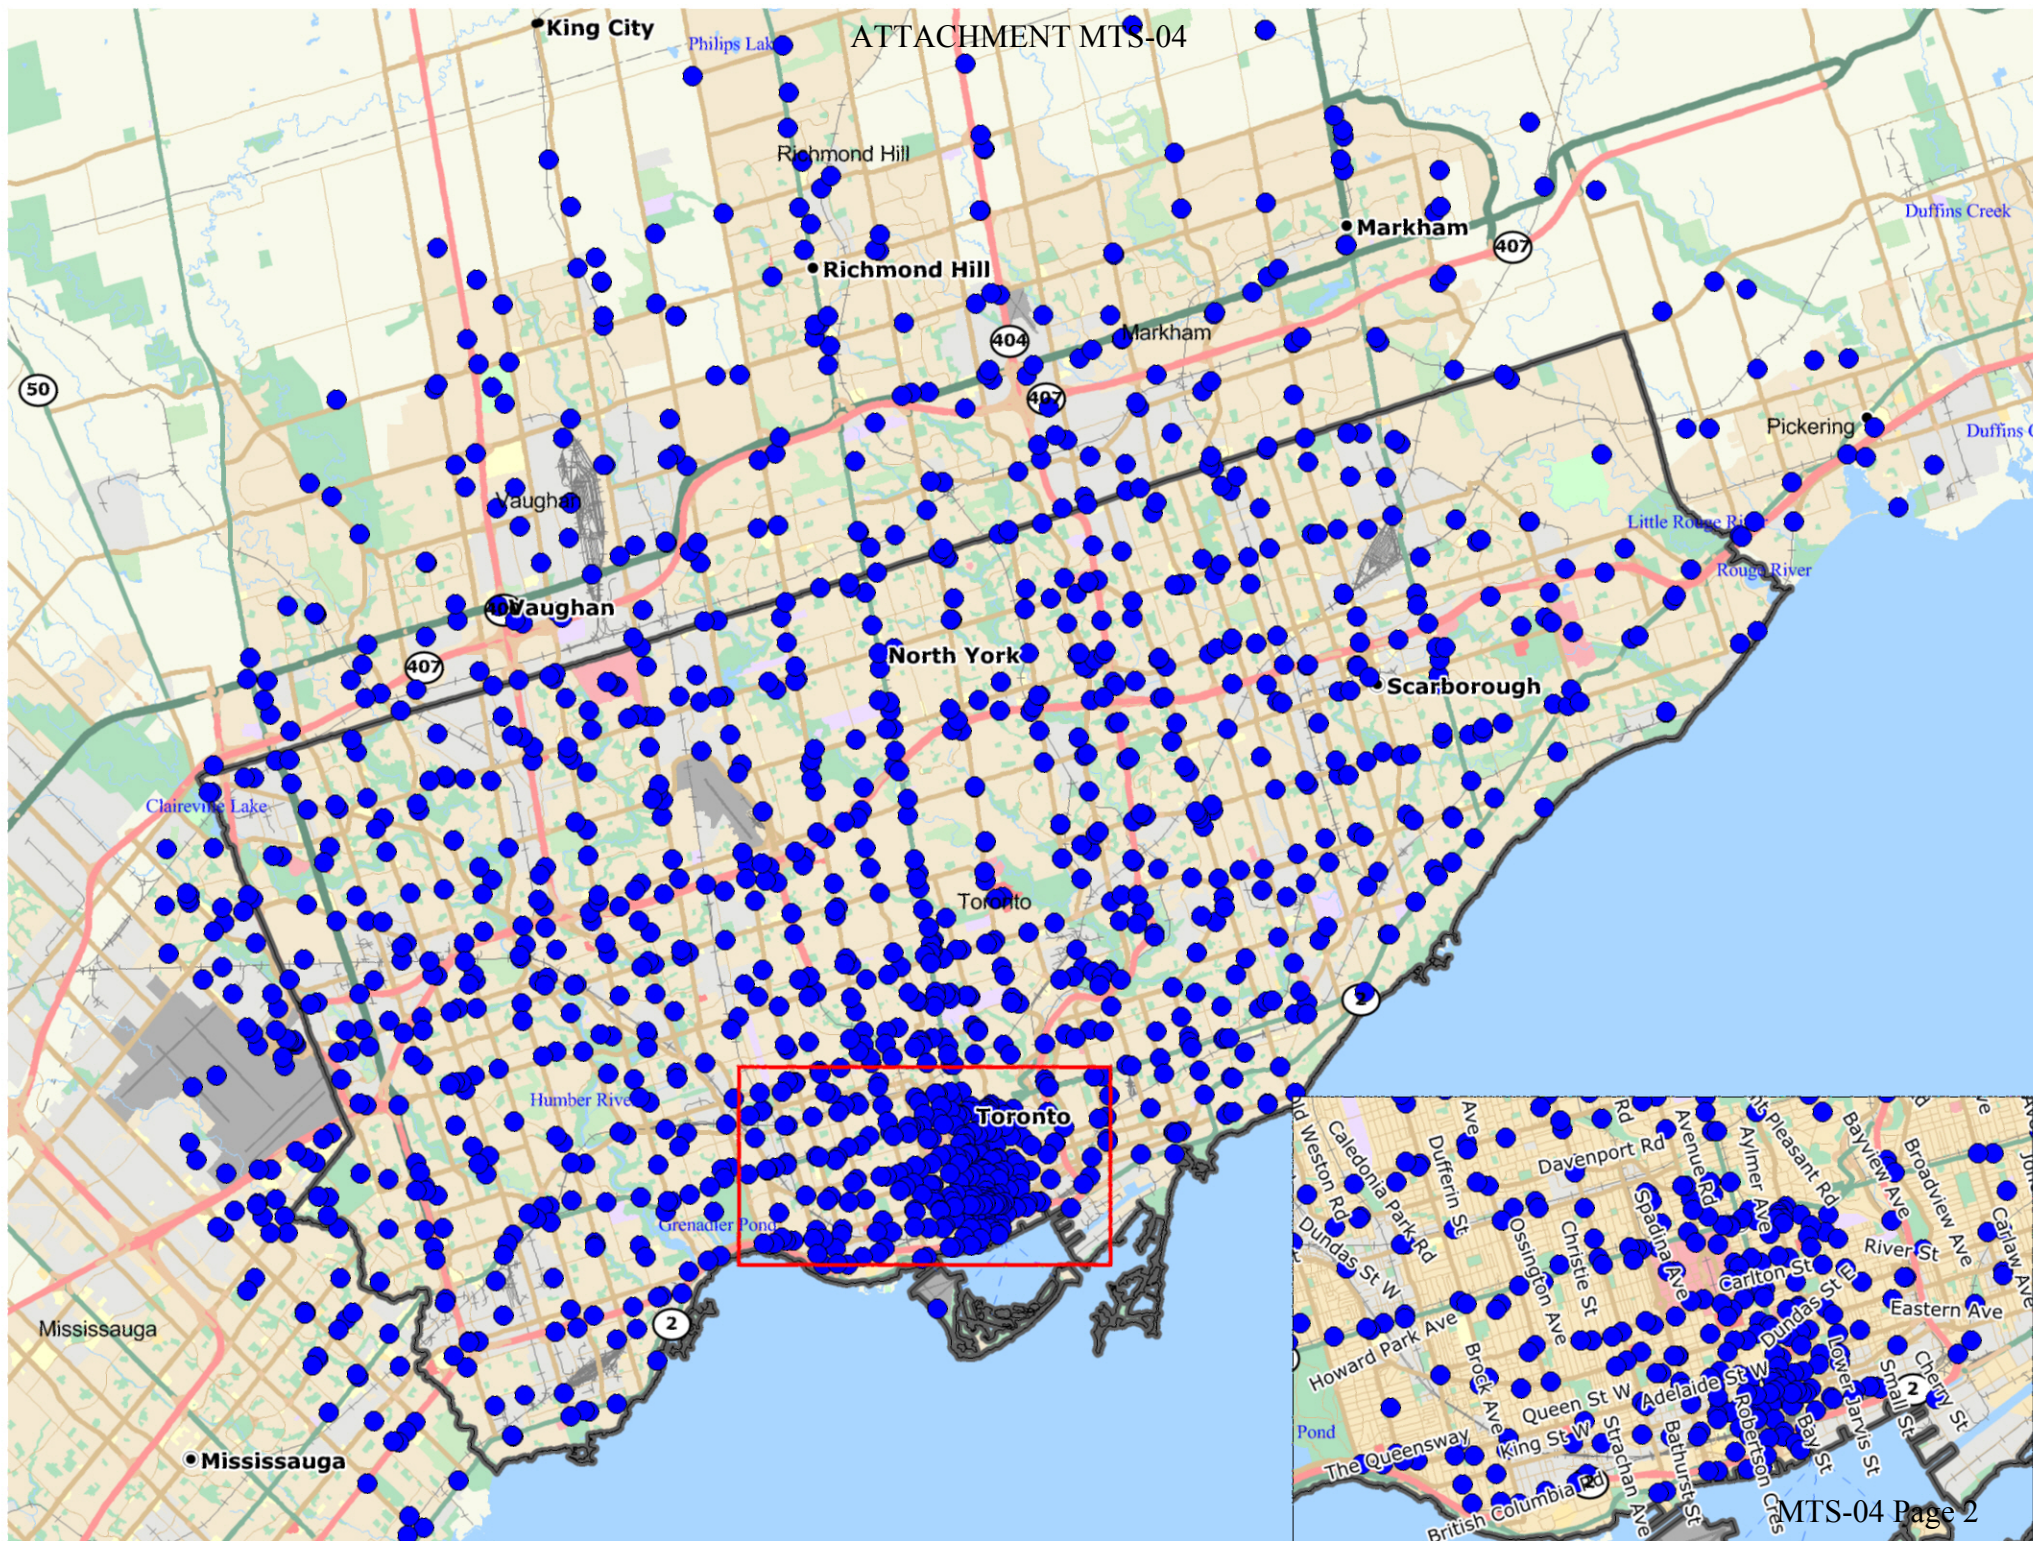

Step 1: The Attachment MTS-03 dataset served as starting point. Because that dataset includes antenna arrays that may be operated by different carriers at the same station site, it was necessary to eliminate multiple records for the same station site. The first step in that process involved concatenating the latitude and longitude fields into a single number and sorting on this new field. A simple @IF formula (i.e., if lat-long field of current record = lat-long field of previous record, flag as a duplicate) was then applied to compare successive records' concatenated latitude-longitude fields and remove all duplicates (which represent multiple antenna arrays collocated at the same station site), so that only a single unique record remained for each location (latitude/longitude).

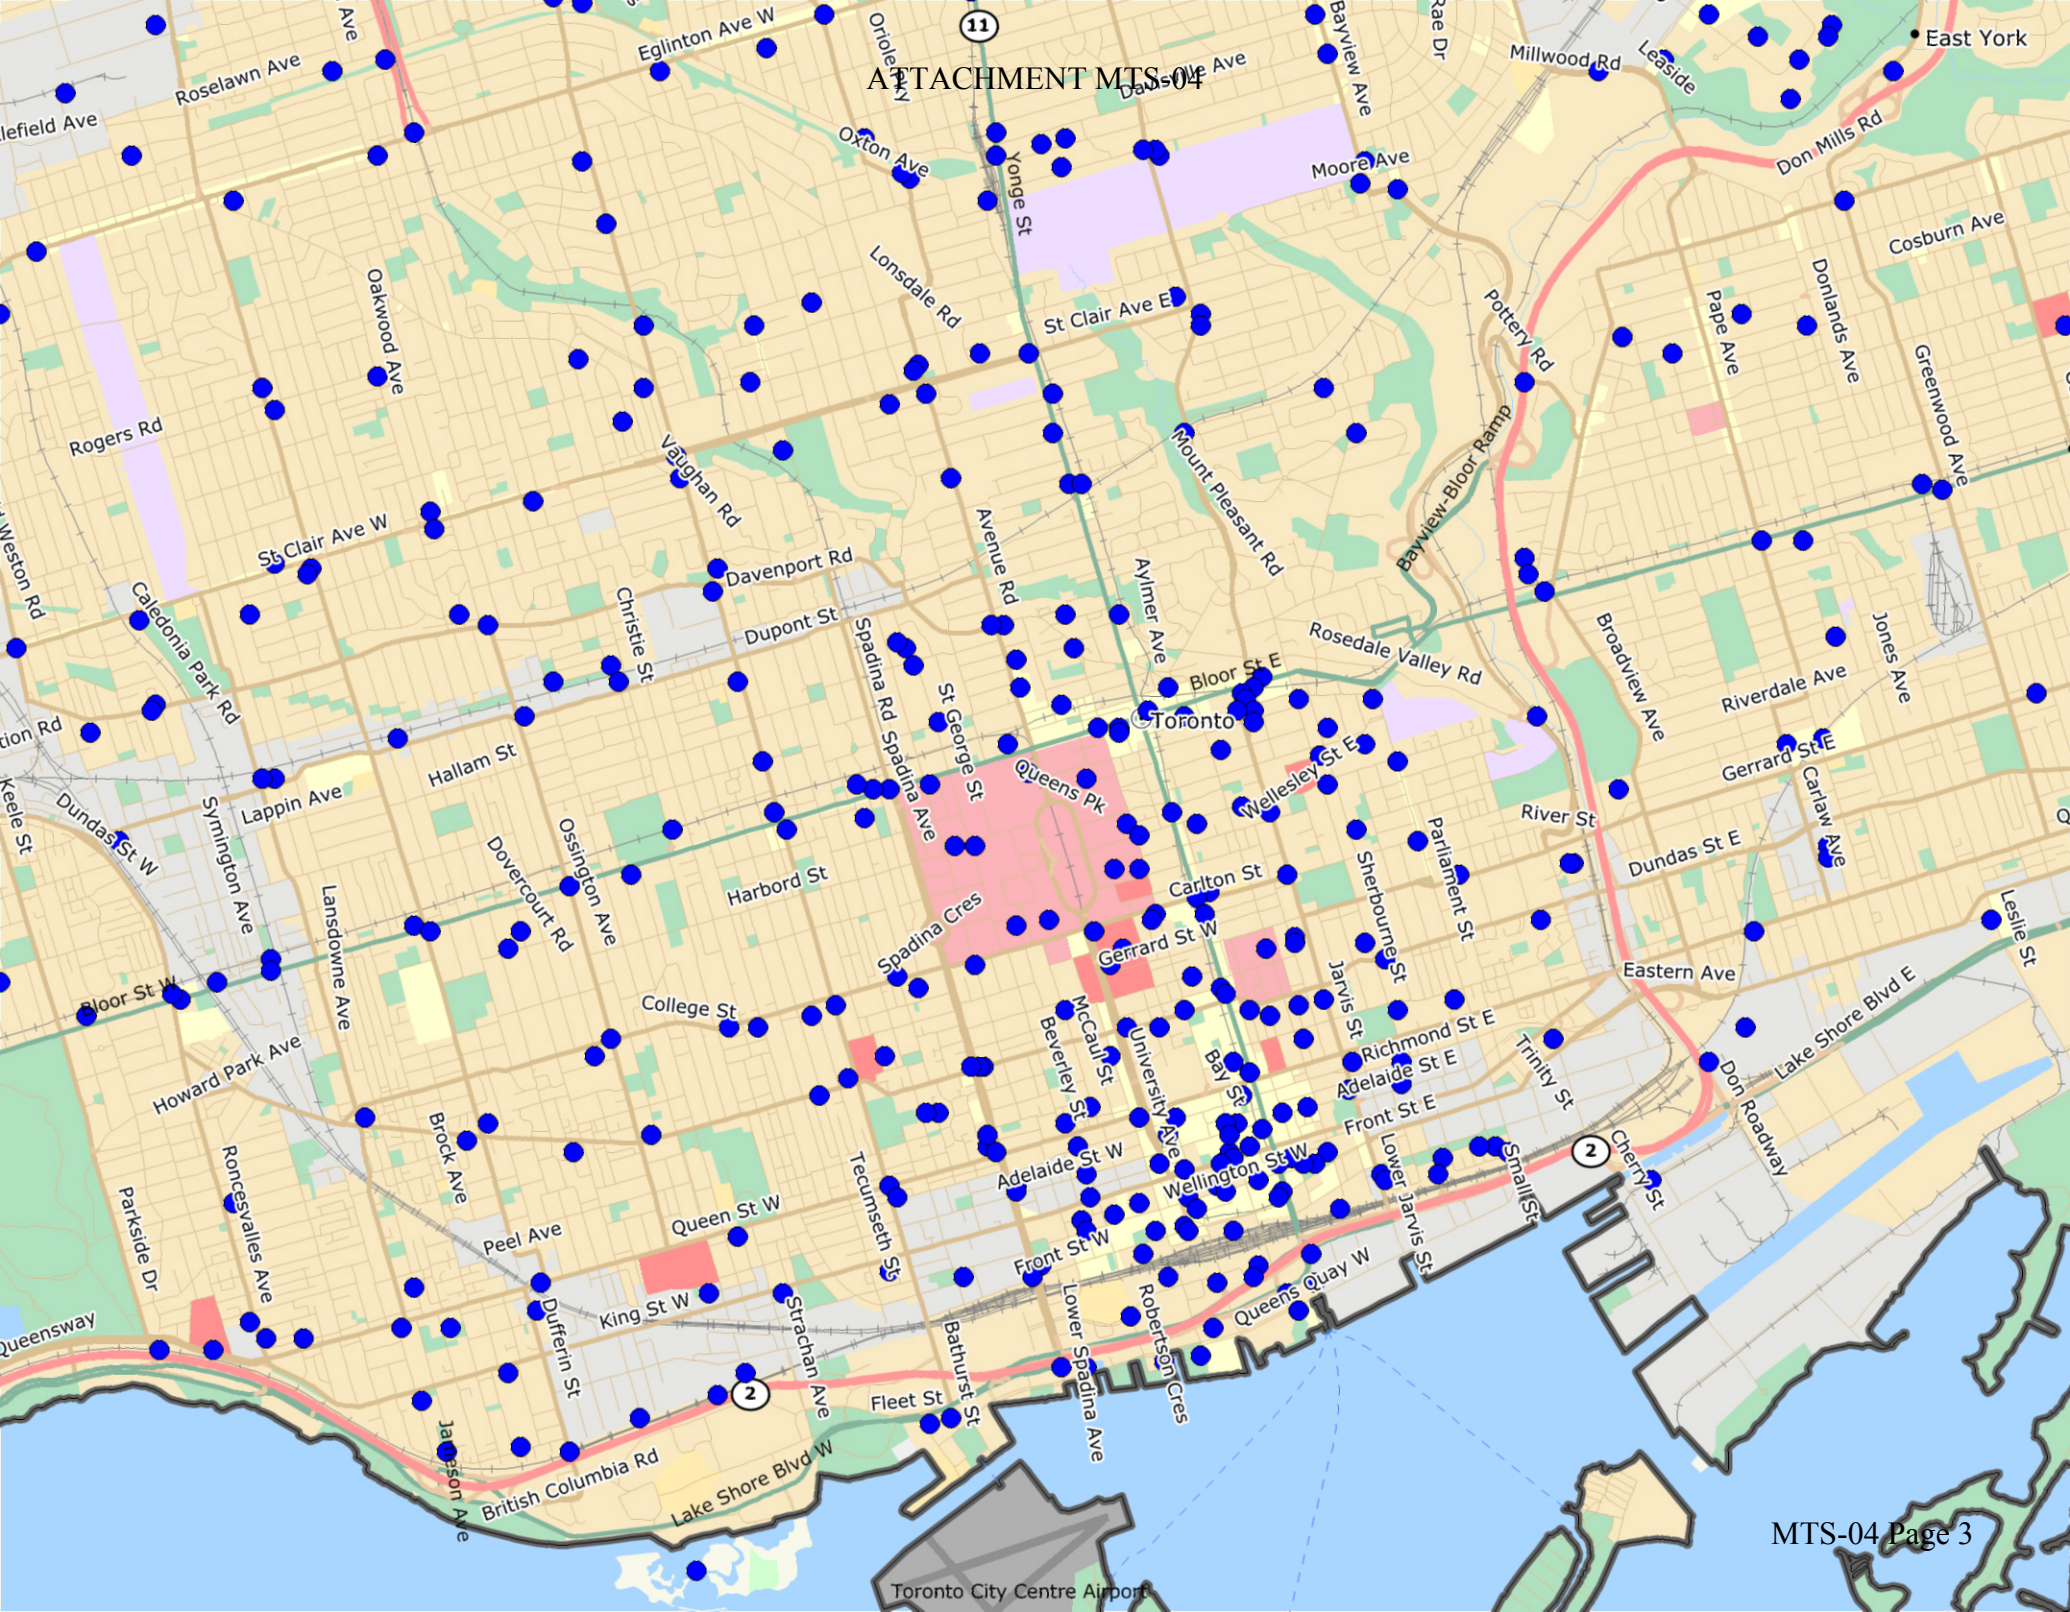

Step 2: However, we also encountered numerous instances in which the various wireless operators had entered non-identical latitude-longitude and/or street address information on the records they supplied to the ALS database for what were clearly intended to represent the same station locations. Therefore, it was necessary to manually identify and remove additional collocated antenna arrays which had closely-similar but not identical Location (i.e., street address) fields.³ This process was aided by constructing an alternative concatenation of latitude and longitude which would put geographically nearby points in even greater proximity in the listing.⁴

After these steps were undertaken, 1343 records remain, which represent the total number of Cellular/PCS/AWS station locations within 25 kilometers of the center of Toronto.

Attachment MTS-05

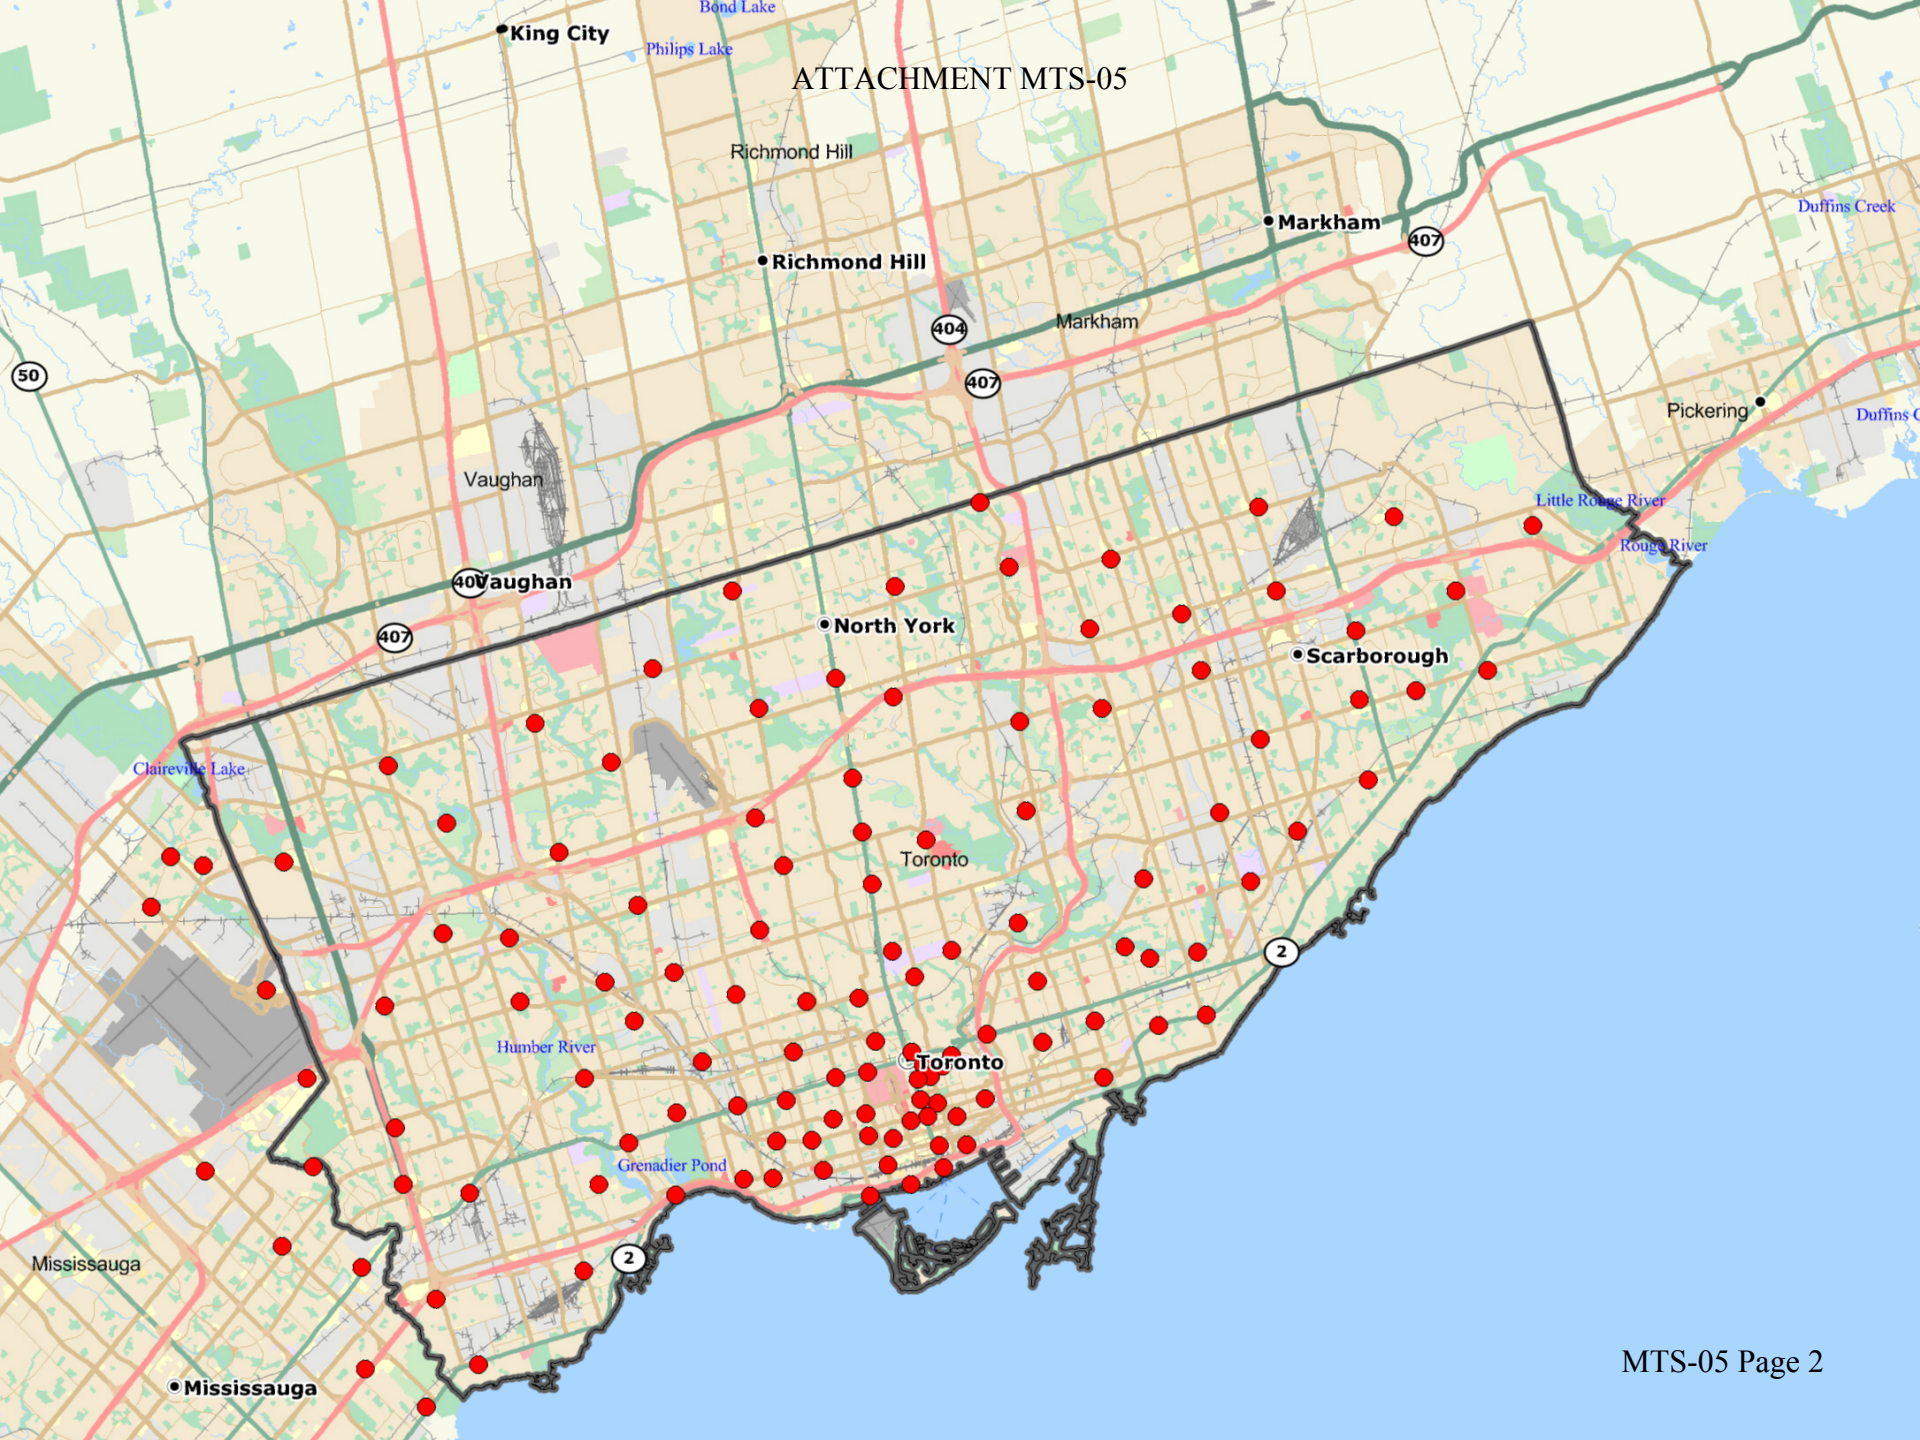

Listing of Public Mobile's Cellular/PCS/AWS Antenna Sites Within 25 Km. of the Center of Toronto

The objective for Attachment MTS-05 was to identify the physical locations (i.e., station sites) within 25 kilometers of the center of Toronto at which Public Mobile Inc. has licensed Cellular/PCS/AWS antennas. Attachment MTS-05 was developed using a two-step process.

- Step 1: The starting point was the Attachment MTS-03 dataset. Because that dataset includes licensing and antenna array information for multiple carriers, the first step was to select only those records for which the Licensee Name field was equal to "Public Mobile Inc."
- Step 2: The second step was to reduce the dataset from antenna arrays to station locations, since Public Mobile could be operating multiple antenna arrays at the same location. This was performed by sorting on the Location field and eliminating records with duplicate locations, so that each remaining record identified a unique station location.

This process resulted in 125 records, representing Public Mobile's licensed Cellular/PCS/AWS antenna sites within 25 km. of the center of Toronto.
