Subject: Enbridge new rates application

I am totally disagree with the Enbridge requesting gas new rates for 2013 because of every single year gas rates going up. It does not matter the small percentage increased. People who have a 10 - 12 dollars hour job actually have a hard time to pay their monthly bills. The increase a year would be $34 per year, or 3.2%.

However, the workers never had have a raise even though in this "small" percentage.

The Honorable Ontario Energy Board must to take into account that others utilities companies, mortgages rates, price of gasoline, price of grocery, etc, had elevated their rates to make more difficult making payments.

I think this increase would proceed if the wage were increase at least in the same percentage.

This requesting is inappropriate and affects the economy of the consumer who are still waiting for wage increase at least in the same percentage of the cost of living.

Sincerely,
