

Undertaking No. J3.4

To calculate the correlation between population and the total system load, to see if it is negative or positive, p.129.

Response:

The total system load and population have a positive correlation of 68.9%.

It's important to note that since 2004, Enersource's forecast modelling has produced energy consumption forecasts within 1.7% to weather-corrected energy purchases.