Subject: East durham wind farm

Before the energy board decides on where the transmission lines are to be - there are many issues that need to be addressed before this farm proceeds ahead. As one previous land owner in the site plan, I have lost thousand of dollars selling my home. Nextera needs to address this issue as real, losses are happening near the wind turbines and proper compensation is not being paid. While I understand the concept of how and why the wind turbines are being developed here - the surrounding land owners have been treated like they don't even exist. Damage in terms of our life style, health, and economic equity have been compromised. Nextera needs to become a good corporate resident and address and deal with all the issues that come as a result of wind farm development. Real damage is being done, and the lowly land owners are left with no protection. Ken Toldnes
