Letters To Editor

Honour A Hero returns to Walkerton Legion

Letter to the Editor

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 102 presents the 13th Annual Honour A Hero returns with a new enhanced exhibit and program to help in the delivery of our local military history. Last year the students from both high schools were on hand to help guide the younger grade students through each station of the exhibit explaining the artifacts and talk about veterans personal stories. The following veterans have come home from being in closets and basements for over sixty five plus years. The Schmidt family donated the collection on behalf of their father, J470021 F/O Leonard A. Schmidt Royal Canadian Air Force. The collection of medals, badges, uniform, personnel carrying bag, post-cards, aerial photographs and other photographs of his fellow comrades. I made up a large display case and two three inch binders of his personal collection.

I received a photograph of a soldier from the First World War two years ago. The lady found the picture in the rafters of her basement. The lady gave me her land deed information had another legion member research at the land registry office to see who owned the property during those years. There were several names of local men that served in the military from the 32nd Bruce Battalion, Bore War and World War I. I went to see a lady in Formosa to see if she could identify the soldier but she was not sure. She put me in touch with a lady in Port Elgin who identified him right as Zuber 652162 Pte. "A" Company Battalion his info found in the hist Bruce Battalion. It was a satisfaction knowing and bring him home some years.

There are approx 100 new artifacts for pleasure and local historical stories to read information on the www.honourahero.ca
