

From: alba [REDACTED]
Sent: March-18-14 10:19 AM
To: BoardSec
Subject: price increase

Yes, I would like to voice my concern on the proposal of a 40% increase of the price of natural gas. This is absolutely crazy, no one, or no company deserves that kind of increase. I'm on a fixed income and just can't afford that kind of increase. What about the past few years when the winters haven't been that cold, did we see a 40% decrease in the price, no. Or is this because hydro has asked for this large increase and it seems whatever hydro wants they get, is this going to be the same thing here? I just hope whoever sits on the board here has the guts to tell these people that no, this can't happen. It seems to me and a lot of other people that the COE's are worried about their huge bonus or income more than what the AVERAGE person will suffer because of this. Please don't let these big wigs win. And because they're asking for this and then the board will come back and say "well 40% is too high but you can increase it let's say 25 to 30%". This just can't happen. What is wrong with an increase, IF one is needed, to whatever the cost of living is. My income won't go up 40%, should they get that. I know i'm just one voice here and this will most likely never get to whoever makes the decisions but at least I know I've tried, not like a lot of passive consumers who will only bitch once this goes through. Thankyou so much for reading my concerns. Wayne Moone

Sent from Windows Mail