Subject: Natural gas hike

Good afternoon,

I am writing to express my deep concern for the massive rate hike that is, or will be requested, by Enbridge. I understand that their supply of "cheap" gas has been exhausted due to the extended cold this winter. Having said that, it seems to me that they would have foreseen this coming, that it was an inevitable event, one that should have been planned for. To expect to receive such an outrageous hike would cripple many homeowners as they struggle to pay their heating bill for next winter.

I strongly suggest that Enbridge develop a better business model so that they can plan for the next 10 - 15 - 20 years of gas supply and request reasonable rate hikes as the years pass. To expect that consumers can afford such a drastic hike is unreasonable. Please hold Enbridge accountable for better planning and say NO to their rate hike request.

Sincerely,

Andrea McGrath
