

-----Original Message-----

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: April-08-14 11:50 AM
To: BoardSec
Subject: Letter of Comment File#EB-2014-0039

To give Enbridge a 40% increase in gas prices is totally unbelievable.

That they would even have the nerve to ask for it is believing the consumer is ripe for the pickings.

Are we to believe that they missjudged their buisness they have ran for how many years? by 40%?

If so the company should be cleanning house and getting rid of the people who could'nt get it right.

My thought is its more a case of its how are we to pay for the fines and fixes for all our pipe line problems of late, and as usual we can pass it on to the customer.

As a pentioner on a fixed income I can't go to my plan and say "oh I missjudged my gas bill by 40% so I'll just have to hit you for an increase of 40% to cover it".

I just want to say that when the government say's on one hand that it far cheaper to set policies that allow seniors to be able to live in their homes for as long as posible, then allow tax increases, obsene OPG power rate increases (the waste there is out of this world) and now if you rubber stamp a 40% increase in natual gas prices. The writing will be on the wall for how many more of us, that will either have to give up the house, or sit in the cold all winter, or the heat all summer just to make ends meet.

As we are citizens of Ontario please keep in mind you are supposed to be responsible to us. If you allow this kind of increase to take place, then I guess we will all have a handle on who you think you have to answer to.

Richard McCombs
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]