Directed by pianist Barb Bosman a male choir shared its musical talent at Londesborough United Church on Mothers' Day. They sang two lively numbers from the new More Voices United hymnal, "Come O Holy Spirit" and "Water Flowing from the Mountain."

There were many floral tributes beautifying the sanctuary that morning placed there by the Tamblin family, the Postma family, the Bosman family and John and Jane Hoggart in memory of family members.

During the children's time at the front Terry Fletcher recounted one of his favourite children's story, "Are You My Mother?" The book is a collaboration between Phillip Eastman, who was an animator with Disney, and Theodore Geisel, better known as Dr. Seuss.

A newborn nestling fell out of its nest while its mother was off looking for food for it. He went on a search for his mother and encountered a cat, a dog and a cow, all of whom replied they were not his mother. Eventually the wee bird climbed into the bucket of a large steam shovel. The driver of the shovel lifted the bird safely back into its nest and mother was there to feed him.

Terry remarked that he liked this little story because the driver of the machine cared enough to look after the nestling, like a mother would. To him this shows that help comes from any and every one in this world.

During his message to the adults gathered that morning, Rev. Fletcher used a variety of writings from over the years that described motherhood and why mothers deserve to be honoured with a special day. Mothers have influenced the lives and future of their children; they gave us both roots and wings.

God is a parent as well, reaching out to give us unconditional love. The supporting scripture passages were Ephesians 5:25-33; 6:1-3 and from Sirach 3:1-6, all passages offering reasons for respecting mothers.

At the conclusion of the service, the Sunday school children entered the sanctuary and gave all the women a spring annual to take home.

Hullett Central participated in the regional basketball tournament recently. Coached by Mr. Coups, the boys finished second and the girls, coached by Mrs. Fritzley, placed third. Well done!

When it comes to property values, footprints and construction materials, students at Hullett Central Public School are a lot wiser than they were. Last month students at the school, using building materials, set budgets and land values were tasked with building the largest possible home on the smallest possible budget. ## Vincent briefs UCW on IPM

Margaret Vincent was present at the Londesborough UCW meeting on April 20 to offer an early view of the International Plowing Match to be held in the Walton/Brussels area Sept.19-23, 2017. Margaret is a member of the match committee and member service representative of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

It is still early days for the match's plannings but Margaret noted that there will be opportunities for service groups to work in the food court area for the match. Volunteers will also be needed in a variety of other areas to make the event go smoothly. The planners are working with the Perth County committee to pick up tips for having a successful match.

Huron County will be holding the 100th plowing match in the year of the 150th birthday of Canada. No matches were held during the Second World War and the first after, in 1947, was held at Port Albert. The 2017 match will be the fifth match held in Huron County. Commodity groups will be inputting and Barmy Tech in Walton will be providing items of advertising.

The committee planning the match is well aware that the timing of the match holds some difficulty for fall fairs in the county. The match, fall fairs and the Threshers' reunion all have educational value for the county's schools. And they are hoping to work with the nine local fair boards keeping all interests in mind. Visits to and volunteers for the various events may be negatively impacted. Margaret promised to keep the UCW informed as the months go by.

Kittie MacGregor and Keri Whyte led the meditation for the evening, focusing on Earth Day. The scripture passages Genesis 1:9-13 and 26 told the story of earth's creation and the creation of Adam and Eve to have dominion over the earth. Ladies present sang the hymn "All Things Bright and Beautiful".

Keri offered a reading that suggested the garden of our mind
