Electricity costs are forcing more Ontarians into poverty and crippling the industrial sector of our economy.

In this time where the province is stepping in to provide public funds as rate relief, that a strong signal should be sent to Ontario's electric utilities.

Respond to all future requests for rate increases with a 20%-30% rate reduction. This province must force its electric utilities to do more for less. We were able to run a reliable, sustainable, well maintained grid when electricity was 5c/kWh, and we have to do it again.
