When we built our retirement home, we bought energy saving appliances and light bulbs. We put in extra insulation. We mostly sit in the dark and we wear sweaters in the winter....and still our hydro costs go up. The proposed increase will eat up my yearly pension increase in one month. Hydro is probably the only commodity on earth that has shipping charges 4 - 5 times the cost of the product. What will I have to give up now to cover another hydro rate increase. Do you people even know how to say NO!
