We are in a rural area and are unable to access natural gas. We have done many things to make our home energy efficient. Currently, in the summer months the energy delivery fee usually costs more than our energy consumption bill. Raising electricity rates is ridiculous unless you can prove that it is to reduce overpriced delivery rates. What does your CEO and other multitude of top management personnel make? Really I want to know this - and the amount AFTER they get bonuses. Please don't tell me they they work hard for this money. So does the guy who plows our roads, the kid at Tim Horton's etc. They do not get this wage or the incredible bonuses. Use OUR money wisely not to pay yourself and not to gouge people like me and other rural customers who haven't affordable alternatives
