I completely understand the need to maintain, replace and upgrade equipment.
What I don't understand is why this wasn't planned for since the inception of hydro. Would this not have been part of the overall cost budgeting since the inception of Hydro One? Also - you can't expect people to jump up and down over this increase when the CEO makes 4.5 million per year plus bonuses. One can only imagine what their payroll is.
No - I do not approve of these increases!
