I thought the idea was to help Ontarians with decreasing the cost of electricity? This is the reverse! How can this be possible with the rates already at an all-time high? You are forcing people to evaluate living in this province! I for one am not a born Ontarian but have been living here for over 16 years. At this rate, I may be relocated to my home province as there is no real benefit to living here with the soaring cost of living! It's crazy and over-the-top. More false promises, what else is new?
