I am commenting on the application, by Hydro One, to raise rates, for Ontario customers. Is this a joke? Do they not think people choosing between power and groceries is a problem? Shall I turn off my heat and air conditioning forever?...wash my laundry in a bucket in the back yard with water I've collected during the last rain...and maybe my children too? Please let me know if you have any other tips for me. This may seem to be loaded with sarcasm. Unfortunately, there is nothing to joke about here. Please deny this application and take care of the people who need help.

Kind Regards,
Tanya Nichols
