Background

Tracy Campbell, MA, is a Partner at MNP. Tracy leads a team of specialists that can provide advice and support to over 250 MNP clients in the Duty to Consult. To be a trusted advisor in this space requires expertise in the fields of environmental assessment methodology, regulatory review frameworks, and Aboriginal and treaty rights. Tracy's clients include Indigenous governments, public government regulators and natural resource developers across western and northern Canada.

Prior to joining MNP in June 2017, Tracy Campbell was the Principal of Calliou Group leading a team of 12 professionals. Tracy has more than 25 years of experience in the field of Aboriginal consultation and accommodation processes, answering the challenge, "how to effectively involvement potentially affected Indigenous Nations in a duty to consult process?"

She is a former Chief Negotiator for the Government of the Northwest Territories, Ministry of Aboriginal Affairs, working on both land claims and self- government agreements throughout the NWT. Tracy also contributed to the development and implementation of the First Nations Consultation Guidelines for the Government of Alberta and was Consultation Manager for the Alberta Ministry of Environment.

Service Line

Tracy has extensive knowledge of the Duty to Consult and can offer strategic advice, training opportunities and practical implementation of successful consultation processes. She also helps organizations understand three pillars of the Duty to Consult including treaty and Aboriginal rights, environmental assessment methodology and relevant case law/regulatory environments.

Industry Experience

With multifaceted knowledge and experience in the Duty to Consult, her cross-industry expertise includes First Nation governments, Provincial and Federal governments, Métis Nations, industry proponents and assemblies such as Assembly of First Nations.
