Dear Ms. Walli:

Re. EB-2017-0182 and EB-2017-0194 (NextBridge East-West Tie (EWT) Line Leave to Construct and related Hydro One station facilities application) and EB-2017-0364 (Hydro One Lake Superior Link (LSL) Leave to Construct)

We write on behalf of NextBridge, in response to Procedural Order No. 7.

NextBridge is prepared to provide redacted versions of confidential documents to persons who have signed the OEB's Declaration and Undertaking, subject to the objections set out in our September 28, 2018 letter.

NextBridge will provide access to its unredacted documents in the same format as Hydro One adopts for its confidential information. In Hydro One's September 28th letter, they indicate they will make the unredacted versions of the materials available at a time and at a location convenient to those who have signed the OEB's Declaration and Undertaking, on the understanding that reviewers are not to make notes on, make copies of, or take pictures of, the materials. SEC has objected to that approach. NextBridge will adopt the approach that the OEB deems appropriate.

NextBridge's proposal to adopt the same terms for reviewing unredacted documents as Hydro One is not a waiver of its request that Mr. Murphy be able to review Hydro One's confidential information. Mr. Murphy is responsible for technical aspects of NextBridge's case, and requires access to the information.

Yours truly,

AIRD & BERLIS LLP
