This increase and subsequent previous ones are much higher than actual yearly inflation rate and day-to-day cost of operation increases.

If the motive is to increase company's profit public do need to need get more information on reasoning behind it. if motive is to match increases on its operational costs company's provided information and findings are insufficient to prove it's position.

I demand for a public hearing on this request so that company can clearly showcase its reasoning for this increase.

Regards,
Ebrahim
