no use writing anything as it states it has been previously approved by the Ontario energy board based on inflation and other factors for efficiency.

Windsor is already having a hard time keeping up, and I know people are living in their homes with thermostats turned down to 65-66 degrees just to save money and now they want to increase our rates, there is no winning. we try to be energy efficient, but it just backfires and rates increase. say no to the increase.
