It seems to me this is a capital investment we are being asked to contribute to. If i was to purchase shares, there would be a return i would hope on such an investment. does this mean if this investment pays off, we can expect reduced rates, or a return on said investment. This is a new world, but if i can mandate such funding for improving my return on investment from my customers, there is no reason to leverage such investment. May i suggest they send us all the proposal details, corporate prospectus, and share offers.
