I have a hard time believing this corporation is having a hard time of making ends meet when they are using the policies they are in regards to commercial businesses. A mandatory deposit is required, totalling approximately 2 months worth of bills for all commercial customers. After 7 years you MIGHT be able to get your deposit back. I am a small time business, 4 locations, and they're sitting on $40,000 of my dollars. What exactly are they doing with all the other deposit money they're sitting on? How much money is that money making them? And they want to cry poor? Give me a break. Every business that opens up has to pay them this ridiculous amount of money for NOTHING. I have no sympathy. Manage yourselves better, stop being so greedy, cut out your middle-man salaries. Try running your business like a business.
