I believe hydro one has already collected enough from seasonal cottages owners . Before the smart meters were installed the meters were read once a year . We were charged the higher rates over 750 KW . This was not averaged over twelve months like it should have been . So if there are 500,000 seasonal costumers in Ontario . They made out pretty good . I had caught this on my bill and requested an adjustment . I was told it was only pennies , I reminded them that if they were doing it to all other customers it wasn't pennies anymore . So I believe the seasonal rate should stay because we already paid them for the line upkeep with interest .

Thank You Robbie Brough
