This classification change to low density R2 is the most ridiculous money grab one could image. My cottage at [REDACTED] is 8 kilometres from gravenhurst with a minimum of 3000 property owners in this 8 Kilometres. Are you changing every farmer to the low density R2 class. They have on average 8 properties in this same distance, if not less. There is nothing but farm land all around us in New Hamburg yet no class change. This is the saddest excuse to grab more money. By the way my last hydro bill was $366.00 with my breaker open and ZERO kilowatts consumed and you want to increase it. What ever you are smoking stop and regain some common sense.
