My seasonal residence, [REDACTED], is on the same power line and within 300 meters of a full-time residential occupant at [REDACTED]. In addition, my husband is the registered owner of the property, [REDACTED], directly adjacent to the year-round neighbour and should also be considered at a decreased rate if in fact year-round rates are lower. If the power is already being delivered to the neighbour as a year-round homeowner, I would like to have the same rate, since there is no perceived increased delivery from that residence to my property or to my husband's property.
