I am currently spending more in gas for my home with 2 people living in it than I did when there 5 people living in it. We work full time and use much less in heating water and the home that we use to. This is nothing but a greed grab. Your CEO's do not need to make a tenth of what they do, riding on the backs of others. I'm tired of paying for their posh homes and lavish lifestyles, while I struggle to keep a roof over my head, food on my table and it froze in the winter.

Enough is enough.
