Re: EB-2022-0200. Enbridge has already increased equal billing for the year an average of $50 per month (my previous EB was $82, now it is $132). It is wholly unreasonable that my household will use an extra $600 in natural gas in this year. To want to raise the rates charged to back up their already padded EB is patently wrong and should be stopped. Heating one's home should not be inherently cost prohibitive nor should these rate increases provide nothing more than a fatter bottom line in these difficult times.
