I request any application for a rate increase be tempered with clear and audited records showing actual costs to Enbridge. If Enbridge is unable to show their operating cost has increased commensurate with the applied-for rate increase, and is instead solely increasing rates to increase their internal profits, then I respectfully recommend their application be denied.

My household income hasn't kept pace with inflation, why is Enbridge entitled to have their profits keep up? Why should Enbridge enrich their shareholders on the backs of Ontarians? What benefit to Ontario will be realized by increasing the amount of money we send to an Albertan company?
