In view of the present recession, inflation of all services, food , gas, all forms of energy, and shortage of well paid labour, Ontario clients, families and people need to be able to rely upon a stable price for their survival needs. Energy is but one of them. More and more full time working adults have to line up at the food banks to feed their children. Those numbers are exploding. In Leeds and Grenville, nearly 37,000 meals were distributed to schools by volunteers. Those volunteers, meaning seniors. This was done over the period of October to May 2021-2022. Kids have no meals and no breakfast to eat. Canada doesn't include the right to eat in its constitution. We can see the need to eat has become the privilege of the few well paid people of society. Only an ever shrinking class of people can be fed. School kids also bring a meal over the week-end, thanks to the Knights of Columbus. Who should we thank for heating and lighting our homes in the midst of these wintery days? How much more can people pay to stay alive and indoors? Who can afford a home anymore? We are sacrificing our youth to profit. We are condemning most people plagued by LOW wages to chronic poverty, lack of heating and lighting, debts over energy bills and now also, we condemn all people to fighting on a daily basis to find basic food. How much more can anyone of us afford to pay? I am concerned because the hunger for profit is expanding at the expense of most people's interests, safety, well being and the health costs associated with such generalized behavior. People needs are neglected, ignored, walked upon for the sake of profits all over the world. Our work doesn't provide us with the income to live and pay bills any longer. The price range of rent is sky rocketing. Who is going to pay for the increases? Our kids, the younger generation and the older people of Ontario, besides all women, and especially single women rising kids alone without a pension from their exes. Before this society implodes, can we keep people heated and lighted over the cold winter?

Is it too much to ask to be alive and breathe freely, in a place where all basic needs are too pricy for survival? Should we go to mass extermination of the poors to get profits sky rocketing without complaints? Then, no one will raise a voice against the disorders of our society. We are imposing a death penalty on all living beings by mass exterminations all over the planet, massive number of animal lives are at risk of disappearing and so is the human race. Where does the race for profit stop?
