Attn: Nancy Marconi, Registrar

Dear Ms. Marconi:

Re: EB-2021-0110 – Hydro One JRAP – Final Cost Claim

We are counsel to the School Energy Coalition (“SEC”). Attached, please find SEC’s final cost claim with accompanying detailed dockets.

	Fees	HST	Total
Total Cost Claim	$175,359.00	$22,796.68	$198,155.68
Less Interim Cost Award	$110,229.00	$14,329.77	$124,558.77
Final Cost Claim	$65,130.00	$8,466.91	$73,596.91

As the decision itself recognized, “this is the largest and most complicated rate case to come before the OEB.” Participating in such a case takes a significant amount of effort, and for SEC that effort was expanded, as SEC took a leadership role among intervenors in this proceeding. In addition to extensive written discovery, and many procedural steps, the proceeding involved 7 technical conference days and an 8-day settlement conference. The latter was successful in resolving all issues.

SEC submits that its participation in this proceeding was thorough and valuable, and was designed to maximize its assistance to the OEB. SEC therefore requests reimbursement of its reasonably incurred costs as set forth in the attached cost claim, which is commensurate with the scope of the issues and the proceeding.

As is seen through the interrogatories posed, and the Technical Conference transcript, SEC has taken the lead amongst intervenors in the review of some of the most complex and significant portions of the application. This included, among other areas, the review of Hydro One’s capital plans (with AMPCO), which alone contains approximately 3,500 pages of pre-filed evidence and 15 third-party reports (exclusive of customer engagement related reports).

SEC participation was divided up efficiency between its various counsel, with the undersigned acting as lead counsel. Senior counsel Jay Shepherd was involved in certain technical and policy areas, including the econometric benchmarking, accounting policy and integration of the acquired utilities. Junior counsel Fred Zheng was involved reviewing certain OM&A and customer engagement issues and providing general support.

The undersigned acted as coordinator amongst intervenors, when required, throughout the proceeding in interactions with both OEB Staff and the Applicant. This includes, for example, coordinating and consolidating comments and edits amongst intervenors on the draft issues list.

SEC also coordinated intervenor meetings in the lead up to both scheduled settlement conferences. During the settlement process itself, the undersigned acted as spokesperson amongst intervenors, presenting offers, and liaising with Hydro One, OEB Staff, and the facilitator, as required. During the settlement proposal drafting process, the undersigned on behalf of SEC took the lead in reviewing the agreement, consolidating the many comments and edits from all intervenors and OEB Staff, resolving issues as they arose, and communicating with Hydro One.

SEC was one of only two parties to file a motion regarding responses to interrogatory and Technical Conference undertakings. Ultimately, much of the motion was settled through discussions and negotiations with Hydro One the day before the motion was to be argued, but this occurred after the preparation for argument had already been done. Both the preparation and discussion time have been included in the 'Prepare Submission on Motion' cost category. The outstanding issues related to the interrogatories/undertaking regarding the Mercer compensation report were settled the day of the motion hearing with lengthy discussion amongst the relevant parties.

With respect to the categorization of activities, SEC notes the following:

- As seen in the detailed dockets, certain activities are done at the same time and so cannot easily be separated into the OEB's cost categories. For example, reviewing the evidence and preparing interrogatories are in most situations the same activity. Similarly, reviewing interrogatory responses and preparing for the Technical Conference were undertaken at the same time. In such situations, for the purposes of the OEB's cost claim categories, we have allocated time equally between the relevant categories.
- We have also included time in the 'Other Attendance' category for docketed activities that do not fit within any of the other existing OEB cost categories. This primarily relates to procedural matters, and includes, among other activities, preparing the Notice of Intervention, reviewing various Procedural Orders and letters, preparing submissions as requested in Procedural Order No. 2, responding to Hydro One's correspondence related to the postponement of the Settlement Conference, reviewing OEB Staff's submission on the Settlement Proposal, etc.
- SEC has claimed a significant amount of time in the 'Settlement Conference – Preparation' category. In doing so, we wish to note the following:

First, SEC was required to prepare twice for the Settlement Conference, because of the late decision by Hydro One that it could not proceed with the February Settlement Conference as it needed to update the evidence. The inflation evidence had the effect of materially changing almost all the numbers in the evidence, which required significant time from SEC's perspective to update our own internal models.

Second, according to both the original schedule outlined in Procedural Order No.1, and that in Procedural Order No. 5, if there was no substantive settlement agreement reached, a five-week oral hearing was to begin approximately one or two weeks after the conclusion for the Settlement Conference. Considering the scale of the application, and the areas SEC would have been expected to take the lead in cross-examination, preparation for the Settlement Conference had to be done in a way that would allow for a quick pivot to the oral hearing. In essence, SEC had to start preparing for the oral hearing in parallel with preparing for the Settlement Conference. While this time is categorized as 'Settlement Conference - Preparation', it includes what could otherwise be classified as oral hearing preparation if the matter proceed to hearing. If SEC had not undertaken this approach to prepare for the Settlement Conference, we could not reasonably have been expected to be prepared for an oral hearing that would have begun shortly thereafter.

Third, SEC has included time in this category for time spent during the Settlement Conference period, but outside of the Settlement Conference itself. As noted by our detailed dockets, a significant amount of time is spent during settlement conference evenings/weekends preparing for the next day, conferring with parties, and analyzing offers and preparing potential counter-offers. SEC also prepared offer analyses and shared with other intervenors throughout the settlement process.

SEC believes this time and effort was integral to the ability to reach a full settlement.

- As we noted in the covering letter to our interim cost claim, at that time SEC did not include any time expended by junior counsel Fred Zheng, saying we would determine an appropriate quantum of Mr. Zheng's time to claim at the completion of the proceeding, when we are in a better position to evaluate the reasonable value of his contribution to the proceeding. We have now done so and determined not to claim more than half (~96 hours) of his time spent working on this matter.
- All time claimed for the undersigned, as of September 2022, has been included as a separate participant to reflect the change in the hourly rate related to the change in the number of completed years of practicing, pursuant to the Practice Direction on Cost Awards.

Yours very truly,
Shepherd Rubenstein P.C.
