Re File EB-2022-0200

Any rate increase must be distributed among your customers equitably.

Seniors are trying to stay in their homes, there are low income earners barely keeping a roof over their heads, and yet there are many very capable of paying increases.

I earnestly implore you to do two things:

1. Examine what increases are necessary for your business - not just profit building.
2. Make any necessary increase based on personal income or some version of equality.

Respectfully submitted, A long time satisfied customer
