I am 71 years old, live alone and on a pension. With the continuous rise in prices for food, taxes, utilities, etc. etc. it is getting more and more difficult to survive in an economy racked with high inflation and price gouging. Could someone please show some empathy to how difficult it is for Ontarians to maintain their homes with ever rising costs? Homelessness is a major problem everywhere and as prices continue to rise on home heating and everything else, many more will not be able to afford the increases and will, in fact, end up being homeless themselves. Please show the citizens of Ontario that you care enough to hold the line on steady increases that many find so difficult to keep up with. Thank you.
