I vehemently oppose any further increases to the consumer rates that Enbridge Gas charges. A review of my current bill covering the period from Oct. 13, 2022 - Nov. 8, 2022 shows that our average daily use is less than the same period last year, however, our current bill is 154.9% more than same period last year. The current bill is $133.45 versus $52.34 for the same period last year. This is because the "Total effective gas supply rate" has gone from 13.2868 cents/m3 to 27.9027 cents/m3. We are pensioners on a fixed income and our pension income for the same period has increased by 7.9%. We cannot afford to continually absorb these increases. You need to consider the financial position of seniors.
Thank you.
