Hi there, I am writing this as I am against the notion of increasing our gas rates they are already high and it is already hard to keep up with the multiple bills of owning a house in this neighborhood. You will be putting alot of people out who already can't afford the rising rates of houses and property tax. I find it to be very selfish on enbridges part to tru and raise the rate as there is already a housing issue as is. Unless the government wants to compensate every Canadian in accordance to the existing inflation problem I would like the opinion of the home owners to be under consideration when making this decision as this will impact alot of Canadians. I would like to see more consideration and compassion for the home owners then the greedy gas company. Thank you.
