Dear Ritchie Murray:

Re: Enbridge Gas Inc. (Enbridge Gas, or the Company)
EB-2025-0064 - 2024 Rebasing – Phase 3
Intervenor Evidence Requests

Enbridge Gas filed Phase 3 of its 2024 Rebasing Application on February 28, 2025. As part of the proceeding, Enbridge Gas is requesting approval for several items, related primarily to harmonization of cost allocation, rates, services, and gas supply variance accounts.

In accordance with Procedural Order No. 2, Industrial Gas Uses Association (IGUA) and TransCanada PipeLines Limited (TCPL) submitted letters on May 30, 2025, regarding their requests to submit evidence in the proceeding as follows:

- IGUA requested interim leave from the OEB to file written evidence, as they have not yet determined whether to sponsor expert evidence. They have retained Dustin Madsen of Emrydia Consulting Corporation to review and analyze Enbridge Gas's proposals and alternative scenarios for rate harmonization, rate design, and cost allocation. IGUA noted that they will update the OEB on their intentions regarding expert evidence once Mr. Madsen's analysis is complete, which is expected around mid-July.
- TCPL has requested leave to submit evidence should they determine it is required to ensure that their existing service rights, flexibility features, and terms and conditions of service under the existing Rate M12, Rate C1, and Rate 332 rate classes are maintained under the proposal to harmonize these rate classes into the new Rate E70 rate class.

Should these parties later determine that they will file evidence, Enbridge Gas may have comments on the proposed scope, need, and usefulness of the evidence at that time. In consideration of this timing, Enbridge Gas will wait to provide comments until these parties provide further indication that they are planning to file such evidence, along with a fuller description of what would be contained in that evidence.
