LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

Gas supply is a critical service to residents and resident's income are not tied to inflation. This disparity is increasing the inability of residents to survive in this climate and adds to the multitude of cost of living increases. Soon residents would have to choose between Gas or Hydro. Operational efficiencies at Enbridge should be explored and exhausted completely before any increases are made to the numerous junk fees added to the bill. Enbridge should prove they have exhausted all efforts to improve internal efficiencies before any determination is made.
