LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

my complaint to this would be that they want to raise rates "due to inflation" inflation MOSTLY inflicted upon the public by corporate greed. And under the current climate of political issues with the USA in regards to LNG etc, I think this is also a ploy to make us pay for the losses they may suffer sending LNG to the USA. Hence I dont think canadian consumers should be the ones bearing the brunt of these increases or small business either. Maybe the corporarions that have continued to raise prices on everything because they can should be the ones bearing the brunt of the increases. Make the large corporate consumers pay more but stop trying to run regular people and small business into the ground with continued increases due to "inflation"
