LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

With the rise of costs for almost everything, housing is already next to impossible for anyone to afford in 2025. By increasing rates yet again, many families will have a more difficult time paying bills than they already do. We own our home and pay pretty high bills. I also own a business that pays an insane amount for utilities. I am on the verge of closing my business due to the rise of all costs. It would be beneficial for our entire economy to keeps rates as is, or better yet, decrease for a short time to allow families to catch up.
