LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

I live in Kingston, Ontario, utilize the services of Enbridge Gas, and vehemently oppose the increase to residential and commercial gas rates. Over the last two fiscal years, Enbridge has reported Annual Net Profits of, on average, $4B USD. $4 Billion dollars in two years. This company is operating successfully and navigating the business landscape with aplomb. To pass on a significant increase to residential and commercial users under the guise of inflation and efficiency is highly overblown. I would like to see Enbridge operate at its current rate, finding efficiencies in their processes, at their current rates, and then, after review of the impacts, inform if there was a decrease in their annual net income that then requires a rate increase. Canadians are already struggling enough with high costs on all facets of daily life. Many Canadians cannot afford the necessities of life due to corporate greed and inflation. This rate should not be approved in order to allow some financial relief to those most impacted, especially in light of how well Enbridge Gas is operating, with an average of $4 Billion annual net income in the last two years.
