

LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

I would like to respectfully express my concern and disagreement regarding the recent increase in gas charges. Currently, I pay approximately $55 per month during the summer despite having no active gas usage and up to three times that amount in the winter. My only gas appliance is a furnace, which makes these costs feel disproportionate and lacking in value, especially during the warmer months when usage is essentially zero. This increase comes at a time when Canadians are already grappling with rising taxes, higher mortgage rates, increased cost of living, and record-high unemployment. The timing of this adjustment feels both ill-considered and burdensome. According to reports Enbridge made revenue of $46.199. Billion in year ending June 2025. This was 43.85% over the previous years revenue. Still in this time of recession looming they want to raise rates. This is corporate greed and unconscionable. You must decline the application. Thank you for taking the time to hear my concerns.
