LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

There is no way that we, the people can afford a price hike for our electricity. With the price increases of so many things it is becoming impossible to live. Me and my husband are stretched so thin each month that we are now accumulating debt each month to pay ridiculous amounts for necessities. Mortgage-with a ridiculously high interest rate. Food Gas for the vehicles vehicle payments vehicle repairs Insurance for our home and vehicle. Hydro Our gas bill for the furnace has been massively large the last few years in the winter. 500$ a month. I honestly don't know how we are going to afford another increase. At the end of the month we are already in the red. So if you are trying to push people out on the streets and can sleep at night knowing that during a time when people are struggling the most and finding little joy in life your going to shove them that final inch...go for it.
