LETTER OF COMMENT

Comments:

I have received the notice regarding the intended rate changes in the Alectra service area. There are different rate outputs it seems not because of the cost of the commodity as I have been advised but the cost of distribution. I don't profess to have any manner of expertise on these matters except to say that costs and pressures have and continue to rise. When it is a staple such as this, I would hope that a way could be found to keep things stable rather than increase pricing given the current state of economic pressures on the average family which I feel I represent. I would appreciate your consideration in this regard.
